

This folder contains the video that you came here to see and the pdf of its slides.

Please note that the division of the screen between the image of the slides and the image of the speaker reduces the size of the slides to make the image of the speaker big enough to allow lipreading by the deaf. If you find the image of the slides too small, then open the slides in another browser or download them and open them locally, and follow along in a larger display of the slides. These slides are readable also by text readers for the blind.
